A recent edition of The G Whis, the live-wire Greenville R. S. paper, contains a front page picture of L. G. Baker, coach of the Greenville high school basketball team that fought its way to fourth place in the final State standing. The Greenville team won its district tournament, then came out victorious in the Centralia sectional tourney, thus earning the right to compete for the State honors at Champaign. Although the down-state whirlwind lost both of their contests in the State tourney, they won the admiration of the spectators just as they had done at Centralia by their clean playing and good sportsmanship. L. G. is particularly proud of the good reports that come from all directions concerning the Greenville quintet, for Coach Glenn Baker is an E. I. alumnus, graduating in the class of 1919.

The G Whis speaks thus of its coach: "Greenville High School feels itself greatly indebted to Mr. L. G. Baker, to whose untiring efforts its athletic supremacy is due. Mr. Baker has done so much with the local squad, who are very grateful to him for constructive criticisms and friendly instruction. The spirit he has created among his men is unusually fine and of which any coach might well be proud. The G Whis wishes to join all Greenville in its congratulations to Mr. Baker. We feel that he deserves the credit for our school's recent triumphs."

The foregoing is high praise for Glenn Baker or any other coach, but everybody in Charleston who knows this retiring, quiet-mannered young man knows that he deserves all the nice things that the Greenville folks have been saying about him. He has a habit of coaching winning basketball teams, for this quintet is not the first one that he has made into a winner. The final standing in the State tournament is as follows: Villa Grove first place, Rockford second, Canton third, Greenville fourth.

The Portonian, biweekly publication of the Bridgeport Township High School, notes with interest the success achieved by the E. I. sophomore class in its presentation of "Clarence." The senior class at Bridgeport is going to stage the same play, and feels encouraged by the favorable reports from Charleston. H. L. Hamilton, the popular basketball referee who officiated at the tournament in the E. I. gym in March 1922, and at the Paris tourney a month ago, is a member of the Bridgeport faculty. Incidentally the Portonian comments favorably on the TEACHERS' COLLEGE NEWS, which is very gratifying to the latter.

The Bat, published every six weeks by the Dixon High School, announces that "The Charm School" met with great success and approval when it was presented by the senior class some time ago. The receipts from the play were $180, and the performance was given on two consecutive nights. The junior class will present the three-act comedy, "Fifty-Fifty," at Dixon April 20 and 21. The E. I. C. High seniors can work with renewed vigor in their preparations for "The Charm School," encouraged by the pleasing reports from Dixon.

DECREASE IN BASS SECTION OF CHORUS

The bass section of the student chorus shows the loss of a great many members lately, for Mr. Koch has "cut the squad," weeding out the misfits who were wasting their time trying to sing with the chorus. Many of the boys have been adverse all year to attending the Friday morning practices, so their voices were tested by Mr. Koch and those who demonstrated to him their hopeless songster possibilities were excused from the remaining rehearsals for the Music Festival.

GRADUATION EXERCISES TO FEATURE INNOVATION

The college graduating classes will inaugurate a new custom at E. I. this spring, by appearing in caps and gowns at the commencement exercises. The decision to that effect was voted several weeks ago, and the individual measurements for the garments were turned over to the committee Friday. The college graduates will be distinguished by one class wearing black and the other appearing in gray. The present plans do not include caps and gowns for the high school seniors. The new feature promises to be a popular innovation at this school, and will probably be adopted by the succeeding graduating classes.

Mamie Dorach '22 of Glen Ellyn was a chapel visitor Saturday morning.

Paul Ashby witnessed the baseball practice Thursday afternoon. Mr. Ashby, who has just completed a year of teaching, expects to register at E. I. tomorrow for the balance of the spring term.

Miss Shortess comes down from her school duties at the University of Illinois to assist in the E. I. library on Friday afternoons and Saturdays during Miss Booth's absence.

Helen Watson '22 of Glen Ellyn spent last week at her home near town.

Bessie Garrison '20 of Joliet visited her sister, Emma, at the Hall Saturday.

TODAY'S OPPORTUNITIES

It seems to be human nature for people to discount the opportunities of today by brooding over the mistakes of yesterday or contemplating the achievements of tomorrow. Is it not clear that mankind can not hope to accomplish, to any considerable degree, the work that is possible today, so long as its attention is divided instead of being concentrated on the work of today? And is not that just what mankind needs to develop—the power to focus its attention upon the work at hand, to the exclusion of the distracting temptations to wander into the mental realms of the past and the future?

Anybody 'mows, if he 'thinks' at all on this tendency, that to grieve over the failures or to linger fondly over the pleasures of yesterday is to waste away the opportunities of today. And, in the same way, day-dreams about the expected accomplishments or fears for the problems of tomorrow divert the operations of today. Ordinarily sufficient work comes each day to the average individual to engage his very best attention. And he can not achieve, or even approach, the maximum degree of success in any line of endeavor if he squanders away the precious minutes of today in reviewing the program of yesterday or outlining the program for the morrow. And to just the extent that he is guilty of these distracting temptations he is sacrificing his usefulness to society.

Then, too, let us consider that tomorrow never comes. The only time that a person can ever actually do anything is today. He may plan for tomorrow, but it is always today when the plan is executed. And how seldom do the plans for tomorrow materialize just as they had been outlined! Then clearly the better policy, and the one that mankind needs generally to adopt, is to make the most of the opportunities of today, knowing that the opportunities of tomorrow will be the opportunities of today when they arrive. And thus the worries or hopes for the morrow will be swallowed up in the joys of today's opportunities. Truly does mankind need to learn the lesson contained in the time-honored maxim, "Never cross a bridge until you come to it!"

—Dale D. Coyle.

HOME STRETCH

This week marks the beginning of the home stretch of the year's work, also of the Music Festival and Field Meet. Time will fly fast now. The next few days will be crowded to overflowing, getting everything in readiness for the Music Festival and Field Meet. After that only three or four weeks remain to wind up all the odds and ends of this term's work. For many, the minutes and even seconds must be wisely used if lessons are prepared, collateral readings read, and papers worked up. No one wants to be lagging behind at the CHAPTER 28.

Spring is at last a reality, and the roads are in splendid condition for motor rides. Probably some of the students or faculty members have the automobile bee buzzing in their bonnets, and are contemplating the purchase of a new car within a short time. To you whom this guess fits, THE NEWS recommends that you first read this article until you have investigated the cars sold by the Charleston Overland Co., whose advertisement appears on page 3 of this issue. From this company you may obtain just what you are looking for: a Little Four—T at $592 or more expensive cars ranging up to $1335 for a Willys-Knight—F. Drop around to 613 Seventh street, and give their cars the "once over."

Dr. O. C. Brown is an eye, ear, nose and throat specialist that has been very successful in his profession. He also fits glasses, as you may learn from his business card in this publication. He invites E. I. patronage, and is available for consultations at his office rooms at 604½ Sixth street. (To be continued.)

finish, but everyone wants to reach the line first or at least in the first group.

Now is the time to think the matter over and plan your work to make a glorious finish. Six weeks from now will be too late!

—Mary M. F. Whalen.

NEXT YEAR'S STAFF

Within a short time the Student Council and THE NEWS faculty committee will select the editor and business manager for THE NEWS next year. The custom is for the Student Council to choose the students whom they recommend to head the staff, after which its selections are submitted to the faculty committee for the latter's approval. The editor-elect and business manager-elect will be allowed to pick the remainder of the staff, subject to the faculty committee's official O. K. Any student who aspires to the editorship or business management for next year are requested to indicate their ambitions to the Student Council at the earliest opportunity.

DIAMOND DUST

When the Bradley team nosed out the Lantzen in a hard-fought 12 inning game Wednesday, it made an impressive start on a three day trip. The Peoria aggregation crossed over into Indiana Thursday where it met defeat at the hands of the powerful Wabash team. On the following afternoon Bradley staged a big hitfest in the ninth inning at Millikin, scoring five runs that returned the upstate team the victor, 13 to 8. The Peoria outfit seems addicted to big innings late in the game, judging from its belated wins at Charleston and Decatur.

Bradley's victory at Millikin stamps it indisputably as one of the strongest teams in the conference, and gives added glow to the E. I. hopes for a pair of wins over J. M. U. this season. Incidentally, it is interesting to note that Bradley defeated the Armour Tech nine from Chicago, 10 to 3, while a week later the University of Chicago Maroons trimmed Armour Tech, 8 to 4. So it is very evident that E. I. has a baseball team that is capable of holding its own in pretty fair competition with the University of Chicago Maroons.

GLEE CLUB AND CHORUS PRACTICE FOR FESTIVAL

The student chorus practiced for the Music Festival during the 9:30 period Tuesday morning and during the 10:20 period Wednesday. The Girls' Glee Club practiced Thursday at 11:20 and during the chapel period Friday. A chorus practice was substituted for the morning exercises Saturday, thus keeping Mr. Koch busy all week training the students for next Friday evening's program.

Mack Moore, former star batter and flashy center fielder on the varsity baseball team, witnessed the Bradley game Wednesday afternoon. "Dinty" was one of the best performers that ever graced an E. I. uniform and has been even more successful since graduating to the semi-professional field.

STUDENT COUNCIL HOLDS TWO NOONDAY SESSIONS

The Student Council held short meetings at noon Tuesday and Wednesday. The only absentee Tuesday was Harry Jackson, while in the Wednesday session Roy Stillions, Dale Coyle, and Harry Jackson were not present. The advertising program for the spring student drive was discussed, and a tentative plan is being formulated.

The council voted to pay for the new faculty cuts for the Warbler, the expense of which will be about $17. Treasurer Mitchell reported a bank balance of $44. The cancelled check in payment of the E. I. pennant stickers bill has been returned to the council treasurer, but no stickers have been received and the order has not been acknowledged by the mail order house. The committee was instructed to write to the company, demanding immediate shipment of the stickers.

T. C. HIGH AND C. R. S. IN DUAL FIELD MEET

A C. R. S. inter-class field meet was held on Schaeffer Field Thursday afternoon. The sophomores won the meet. A dual meet between the C. R. S. and T. C. High track teams will be staged tomorrow (Tuesday) afternoon, and the south sideers are hoped to win handily.

Couch Laats officiated as starter in the Crawford County field meet at Robinson Saturday afternoon. The Robinson team won the meet handily.

SATURDAY NIGHT PARTY

Saturday night the eleventh grade with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas and Miss Morse were hosts and hostesses at a party in the gymnasium. Games occupied the first part of the evening after which a comedy of two acts was presented by four members of the class. Ice cream cones were served and the remainder of the evening was spent in dancing. A rousing game of "catch" was the feature of the evening, in which many boys as well as some of the girls and the chaperones participated. Music for the dance was furnished by Katherine Briggs and Florence Aye.

"CAT" HOSTESS

Saturday night Catherine Lytle entertained the R. F. G.'s in her room, in honor of her birthday. Refreshments of chocolate nut sundaes and angel food cake appeased the appetites of the hungry assemblage. Those there were "Mary" and "Em" Fox, Gertrude and Louise Sharkey, Neva Gish, Sara Seitz, Lois Moore, Virginia Rose Alexander, Velma Rains, Louise Means, Dorothea Jones, Esther Lea and "Cat."

APPLICATION FOR PERMIT TO BROADCAST FESTIVAL

A movement to broadcast the Music Festival by radio has been started by some of the loyal E. I. boosters. It is his official O. K. is forthcoming, the annual festival will be enjoyed by scores of music lovers in nearby towns as well as the audiences in the assembly hall Friday and Saturday.
